- The dashboard provides real-time insights into key performance metrics for better decision-making
- Data is sourced from multiple platforms, including APIs and databases, and is updated periodically.
- Future updates will focus on additional user-requested features and improved scalability.